

MARATTA.

After a prolonged illness due to tuberculosis, Mrs. Jennie Evans, wife of John Evans, died yesterday at the home of her father, Harrison Nally, four miles below town on the Bardston pike. The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at St. Rose church and the remains will be interred in St. Rose cemetery.

The deceased was a daughter of Mr. Harrison Nally and was about thirty years of age. Some years ago she was married to John Evans and had one child survive. Her husband is also survived by several brothers and sisters. Those who mourn the death of Mrs. Evans extend our sympathy.

Dr. Saunders was a remarkable man in many ways. He was not only one of the most profound thinkers and theologians in the Kentucky Synod but also one of the most practical. For almost 20 years ago his learning and scholarly attainments attracted such attention as to gain for him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from the University of Westminster College of Missouri. Dr. Saunders was known not only as a theologian but was a fine historian, having been especially well versed in American history. He was a fine sketcher, the sketches which were exceptionally clear and concise. Dr. Saunders was a fine host in his home, where there was nearly always company, and where he held time for the hospitality of his friends. He was a fine conversationalist and his company was always sought by his friends and acquaintances. Dr. Saunders will be greatly missed by all who knew him, and a great many people here who knew him.

Lion Fondles A Child.

In Pittsburgh a savage lion fondled the hand that a child thrust into his cage. Danger to a child is sometimes great when least regarded. Often it comes through Colds, Croup, and Whooping Cough. They say thousands that Dr. King's Baby Discovery could have saved.

"A few doses cured our baby of a very bad case of Croup" writes Mrs. George B. Davis, of Flat Rock, N. C. "We always give it to him when he takes cold. It's a wonderful medicine for babies." Beat for Coughs, Colds, LaGrappe, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Croup, 50¢.

A near tragedy occurred at the home of J. F. Pettus last evening. Mr. Pettus had loaned his shot gun to a friend for a day's hunt and when it was returned the loads were left in the gun. The friend, who was a stranger, came to be away from home until late. Mrs. Ruby Smith and little daughter, Olivia, had gone to the Pettus home to spend the night. When the stranger returned, the little girl becoming sleepy had retired to bed in a room adjoining the one in which Mrs. Pettus and Mrs. Smith were sitting, when Mr. Pettus arrived. He had been out hunting and, not knowing the house, not thinking of the loads being in it, and while handling the gun it was discharged, the load of shot going in the direction of the room where the little girl was sleeping. Fortunately, at so short a distance, the shot carried with sufficient force to tear a hinge completely off the door between the two rooms, and the girl escaped unhurt. The wound was the only loss sustained. The fright and excitement, however, was so great as to cause a sleepless night at Mr. Pettus' home.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Final estimates of the crop-reporting board are that the yield per acre of this year's Kentucky tobacco crop was 810 pounds, compared with 825 pounds last year and 833 pounds an average yield for 10 years past.

The total production of tobacco in the State is estimated at 381,024,000 pounds, compared to 350,700,000 pounds in 1909.

The quality of this year's crop is 85 per cent, compared with 87 last year.

The Kentucky corn crop's yield was 28.6 bushels per acre this year, as against 29 bushels last year and 26.7 bushels the 10-year average. The production of corn is 104,075,000 bushels this year, as against 143,472,000 bushels in 1909. The quality is 87 per cent this year, against 84 per cent last year.

While the first list of nominees was printed but last week still, the different ones entered have shown great interest and already many of the candidates have called at the Sun office and sought explanations in person of some points which were not thoroughly understood. That is a wise plan—don't wait, but get busy now.

The sky man is the man of the century.

Aviation is, after all, less dangerous than football.

The freak hat is doomed, we are told. Ah, but which freak hat?

Don't keep your mouth open when looking at airplanes. It is a bad habit.

Ballooning is somewhat like tobogganing, but the walk back is more fatiguing.

It is just as fatal to be killed in a football game as in an airplane catastrophe.

Perhaps the hobble skirt is the cause for the new fashion of large pedal extremities.

The man-bird should not attempt at this stage of the game too many shins in the air.

When a man lives in a boarding house he lets somebody else worry about the price of coal.

Aerial wonders put one another until the general public is beginning to be surprised by nothing.

According to reports, the government will soon have to set aside reservations to prevent the Yankees from becoming extinct.

The Chinese may adopt a compromise. When they stop pinching the feet of their girls they may put on their hobble skirts.

A German banker spent eight months in America and did not marry. He is rich, so there must be some other reason.

Dunning by postal card has been forbidden by the post office department. Hereafter the duffers must use two-cent stamps.

A Russian military balloon went up over 20,000 feet the other day. That is enough to get out of range of any ordinary Japanese fleet.

We have grown as a people this year $275,000,000 bushels of corn, oats, wheat, barley and potatoes, and no one should go hungry.

One woman of the "400" paid $11,000 in duties on her gowns recently. The "400" has ceased to practice smuggling except at odd times.

Everything seems to indicate that it will be several years yet before the science of aviation can be considered entirely out of its infancy.

One of Yale's professors is afraid America is soon to be a hobbler. He probably has nothing else at this time to be afraid of.

A trick horse that had been stolen shook hands with the rightful owner, to the undoing of the thief. We defy a trick automobile to do that.

The prairie sport at a New York hospital was short and boring. House guests will be surprised to hear there is quite a fuss about it.

The police have discovered a man leaning against a corner building who had been dead three hours. "All things come to him who waits."

As to the consequences, there does not seem to be much to choose between a woman automobile turning thief and her machine turning turtle.

People hooted at a woman in Columbus, Ga., because she wore a hobble skirt in the streets. Can it be possible that the age of southern civility is past?

Six billion cigarettes were consumed in the United States last year; yet there are in this country a good many young men whose fingers are not stained.

In Cranford, N. J., a thief stole a $100 gold watch from the pocket of a police sergeant while that official dined in the police station. What that policeman needs is a chaperon.

The life of the city boy is indeed hard. No more Fourth of July, no more sallow-eyes and an increase in the number of vacation schools is only matched by a condemnation of moving picture shows.

Aviation is becoming extremely profitable—if not for the country, certainly for the aviators. But the cash inducements to risk life and limb cause the science of airship building to get a toehold on.

Wireless lighting is now announced by a Danish inventor. Nature's lighting has always been wireless and here more than ever.

In St. Louis there is a robber who is known as "the candy kid." He probably got the name owing to his possession of sticky fingers.

A western scientist claims to have discovered a chemical which is death and destruction to germs. In this century approaching the climax of a diseaseless world?

Timely Millinery

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

JUST the most beautiful of all millinery is shown in the exquisite hat of black velvet mounted over a wired cap of gold tissue with two gold roses at the side. Lewis of Paris won the first prize at the fashion exhibition with a big hat mounted over a lace cap. He must have lost it if this exquisite New York model had been a competitor. But the idea was new then and seized upon by the Paris designers as one would seize upon gold coins lying about the streets. In fact, a good new idea is the same thing—it can readily be coined into substantial money.

This charming hat is very large and apparently very simple. But let no one be deceived as to its simplicity.

IN CLOUD GRAY CASHMERE

Simple Girlish Dress That Will Set Off the Charm of the Young Lady.

A simple girlish dress this, in cloud gray cashmere; the skirt measures not more than two and one-half yards round, and is trimmed with two stitch-edges with rounded ends in which buttons with cord loops are sewn. The bodice and sleeves are cut together, the fronts crossed at waist, and forming a "V" shaped opening.

over a white lawn chemise with turn-over collar and jabot of embroidery. The sleeves are finished with tiny turned-up cuffs.

Hat of straw to match dress, lined with darker crepe-de-Chine, and trimmed with wide ribbons.

Materials required for the dress: Six yards 46 inches wide.

Sewing Lace.

Always sew lace with fine thread and never with silk, for the silk stitches are very noticeable. This is true, no matter how coarse the lace, silk will not sink into a fabric as thread will. This is a sewing hint given me recently by a prominent dressmaker, who expressed herself as "tired to death" of seeing gaily plain white lace dresses with narrow lace chemise and hat trimmings.

The trimming is a dull metallic wing-like ornament in gold and silver. The shape is perfect, forming a back ground against which the face, neck and shoulder become a picture.

Another extremely large hat, covered with Duchess lace, is shown in Fig. 2. The brim droops without upwards flare, and is not quite so graceful as in the first hat, but it found more becoming to certain types of faces. The trimming of ostrich is a fancy mounting and combination of rich Persian coloring, is the note of climax in the model, which has been much admired.

Either of these demonstrates how wide a brim may be, and still leave no doubt as to its beauty.

CALLS FOR COMMON SENSE

Some Simple Rules for Girl Who Finds It Necessary to Diet—Beware of Excess.

Here are a few rules that the girl who is determined to diet does well to observe. There is too much trifling with our digestion these days, and not the least harm is done by the no diet for dieting.

Never diet on the advice of a friend. Her plan may have done wonders for her and will put you to bed or make you a sorry-looking wreck.

Don't diet to excess at any time. Girls, make sure your doctor knows dietetics. Many physicians, good in other things, have little knowledge of the effect of food upon the system.

If you must diet from a cause, as from diabetes or kidney trouble, do it religiously; almost better not begin than to do it spasmodically, letting up whenever food tempts you.

If you only diet for the sake of figure or complexion, count the cost before starting. Cutting out the foods of ordinary family meals is hard. Ask yourself: "Which means most to me, the loss of a few pounds or being a nuisance at mealtime?"

Don't keep on dieting if you feel that it disagrees with you. This holds good even when your feet list is fully consoled by a physician. The best of them will make mistakes. Find out in time what is wrong.

Don't diet to excess at any time. Women often go to the point of weakness the entire system by indulging in following a doctor's advice.

Common sense and moderation are good things to hold to in the matter of food.

Veils of the Season.

Stylish and becoming are veils of white ring dot net with the rings in black and a fine black lace border to match.

The winter's veils show large, octagonal meshes, sometimes plain, again with big woven dots.

Care should be exercised in wearing the veils or the nose sticking through the meshes gives a grotesque appearance.

The most becoming veil is a fine mixture of black and white, tiny black dots on white net being better than white on black. These have become known as the beauty veil because so many women wear them, regardless of style.

The Belt Buckle.

With the return of the belt to favor again, belt buckles in infinite variety have appeared. The simple enamel buckles in empire green, ruby and dark blue are well liked for every day wear. With dressy gowns oblong or oval gilt designs in Louis XIV style, accentuating with brilliants, add a smart touch to the toilet.

Newest Letter Paper.

Some of the prettiest note paper has a very narrow border of blue, pink, gray, lavender or red and one initial at the top set in a ring of color the exact shade as the border. The correspondence cards also are thus bordered and are very pretty.

KENTUCKY GLEANINGS

WHAT IS GOING ON IN DIFFERENT SECTIONS OF THE COMMONWEALTH

PRESBYTERIAN MINISTERS

Entertained at Former Home of Thoroughbreds.

Frankfort.—Twenty-five Presbyterian ministers, members of the West Lexington Presbytery, were entertained by Dr. J. A. Alexander this week at Woodburn farm, near this city, the home of Abdallah, Marmont, Chief, Harold, Almont, Maud, S. Jay-Eye-See and other noted harness horses.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Archie Frances Falls From Freight and Loses Arm and Legs.

Morhead.—Archie Frances, aged 40 years, of King's Mountain, was thrown from a freight train here and, falling across the track, had both legs and one arm cut off. Two hours later he died from his injuries. He was a brother-in-law of Sheriff McCarty, of Lincoln county, and leaves a wife and seven children.

LIBERAL DONATIONS

To Fund for the Proposed Model School Building at Lexington.

Lexington.—The Civic League has received from John C. Mayo, the Eastern Kentucky coal and iron company, a check for $1,000 as an unsolicited donation to the fund for the building of the proposed $45,000 model school. Mr. Mayo, who had previously donated $2,000, has doubled his subscription. The campaign for the fund has closed.

HORSES GONE; TRACK DESERTED

Lafayette.—The big Jacksonville special of sixteen horse-cars and the special for Pensacola, which was to leave the departure of the latter train few horses are left at the Midland track. Most of these will be shipped to Tampa when the track opens January 2. Gen. Mgr. John Hackmeister will remain a few days to settle up the affairs of the association before going south for the winter. The season has been a satisfactory one for the association.

KING'S DAUGHTERS.

Annual State Convention in Lexington Largely Attended.

Lexington.—The Kentucky branch of the International Order of the King's Daughters convened here. Addresses were delivered by Miss Annie M. Brown, the King's Daughters secretary of the Dominion of Canada, and Mrs. John T. Mason, of Baltimore. Representatives were in attendance from every part of the state.

Lexington.—Collections of Internal Revenue amounting to fully half a million dollars will be the record for November, 1910, according to the way the collections have been made so far during the month. Taxes, etc., already taken in at the local revenue office are far in excess of those received during the first half of November of 1909, and there is every indication of this month being a record breaker in amount of taxes collected.

State Warrants to be Paid.

Frankfort.—The first call for interest-bearing warrants to be presented for payment will be made by Capt. Ed Farley, state treasurer, sometime during December, when it is hoped to pay off a large number of the warrants. On account of the collection of state and county taxes during the latter part of this month and the first of December the state, it is said, will have a large sum of money on hand and will be able to pay off a portion of the floating debt now outstanding.

Frankfort.—Although the blue grass section of the state boasts of the richest soil in the world, Pulaski county, in the heart of the mountains, comes to the front as the producer of corn at the rate of 121 bushels per acre. This report has been received by Commissioner Rankin, and the corn was grown from seed furnished by him to the school children of the county for the corn-growing contest.

Lexington.—The autumn session of the board of officers of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs convened here. Mrs. James A. Leach, of Louisville, is president.

Louisville.—William Houston Newman died suddenly at his residence, Mr. Newman would have been 40 years old February 8. His death was due to the infirmities incident to old age. He was one of this city's pioneer business men and noted for his benevolent work.

Glasgow.—Disappointment was felt here when it became known that the Kentucky field trial which was to have started here had been called off. The abrupt change was brought about by the fact that birds are so scarce.

THE RECENT ELECTION.

State Commission Will Canvass Votes Next Week.

Frankfort.—A meeting of the state election commission has been called for Monday, November 23, to canvass the returns and issue certificates to the successful candidates for congress and appellate judge in the recent election. The law requires the commission to meet on the third Monday after the election and the 23rd will be the third Monday.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SEBREE.

Elkhorn.—The body of Mrs. Bettie Carney Sebree, widow of P. A. Sebree, who was shot and instantly killed in Trenton by her nephew, Morris Banks, was taken to Clarksville, Tenn., and buried in the cemetery at that place by the side of her husband. Her brother, Ed Carney, of Cincinnati, arrived in Trenton and accompanied the body to Clarksville.

No change is noticeable in Rank's appearance, and he still has the air of aloof indifference noticeable in him ever since the tragedy. To those who call on him, his cell at the county jail he talks in his usual manner about matters of ordinary interest, but at no time has he referred to the tragedy.

Both his father and his mother have been in poor health for some time, and their condition is now serious as a result of the terrible shock occasioned by their son's act, and physicians have been in attendance upon them almost constantly.

THE VISITING GOVERNORS.

Louisville.—Members of the reception committee who will welcome the governors of many states when they arrive in Louisville from Frankfort, November 30, to attend the conference of governors, met and plans for the reception were completed.

Mr. Murray, chairman of the committee, appointed a special delegation to meet the governors, and the special train there and escort the distinguished visitors to Louisville. The entire party will be taken to the Seelbach, where a luncheon will be served. A general reception will follow. There will be a round of entertainment in the afternoon, dinners that evening and a reception at the Pendennis club at night.

Wants His Share.

Frankfort.—W. McC. Johnston filed suit in circuit court against H. J. Thompson, Floyd Day and the New Bell Zello Co., Incorporated, and asks that the defendants, Thompson and Day, be ordered to deliver to the plaintiff 1,180 shares of stock in the corporation worth the par value of $118,000, or in case the stock can not be delivered that he be awarded judgment for the sum of $117,700, the difference in the price at which he contracted for the stock and its present market value, and that the corporation be ordered to him all the dividends that may be paid in the future on such stock.

Court of Appeals.

Frankfort.—The court of appeals reversed the case of Stonewall J. Buford against Beasle Hopewell and others, from Jefferson county and ordered a new trial. Beasle was hurt by being struck by Buford's automobile and the jury have her a verdict for $2,500, and the court says that the amount awarded her was excessive and the reversal was on that ground alone, as the decision says that the chauffeur was negligent. The case of Asher against City of Louisville was affirmed, the court holding that Asher must pay the taxes assessed by the city on his personal property at something like $100,000.

News in Kentucky

Ophir.—John M. Cantrill has been appointed postmaster at Ophir.

Louisville.—Subscriptions to the Castleton statue fund have reached a total of $5,347.

Nicholasville.—The $30,000 damage suit of George Logan against the Kentucky Haytens Co. has been compromised for $10,000 and costs.

Frankfort.—Gov. Willson will spend Thanksgiving in Louisville and then attend a meeting of the Gulf Deep Water Ways association in St. Louis.

Louisville.—The first direct importation of tea to Louisville from China was received within two carloads, 567 cases of the oriental leaf reached here from Shanghai, China.

Richmond.—Federal court adjourned after a week's session. The Middlebury whiskey case, which has been in court for three years, was tried for the fourth time at this term, resulting, as in all former trials, in a hung jury.

Phelps.—Following the assassination of R. B. Henshaw here, Henshaw's young wife and a man known as Hyersee Collins are under arrest. Henshaw was shot to death as he slept in his bed.

Morhead.—Archie Francis, 40, of King's Mountain, was thrown from a freight train here and, falling across the track, had both legs and one arm cut off. Two hours later he died from his injuries. He was a brother-in-law of Sheriff McCarty, of Lincoln county, and leaves a wife and seven children.

"I wish to say that I have used Sloan's Liniment for a lame leg and it has given me much trouble for six months. It was so bad that I couldn't walk sometimes for a week. I tried doctors' medicine and had a rubber bandage for my leg, and bought everything that I heard of, but they all did me no good, until at last I was persuaded to try Sloan's Liniment. The first application helped it, and in two weeks my leg was well."—A. L. HUNTER, of Hunter, Ala.

Good for Athletes.
Mr. K. GILMAN, instructor of athletics, 417 Warren St., Koz. Ky., says: "I have used Sloan's Liniment with great success in cases of extreme fatigue after physical exertion, when an ordinary rub-down would make no impression."

Sloan's Liniment has no equal as a remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia or any pain or stiffness in the muscles or joints.

UNCLE CALHOUN SPOKE OUT
Answer No Doubt Truthful, but by No Means What the Orator Desired.

Booker T. Washington, congratulated by a New York reporter on the success he has made of his life, said with a smile:

"I suppose I must be modest and declare that luck has had much to do with my progress, or otherwise I'll be in Senator Dab's shoes."

"Senator Dab of Tallapoosa prided himself on his rise from the bottom, for Senator Dab in his youth had cotton fields."

"Boasting at a political meeting about his rise, the senator singled out Uncle Calhoun Webster among his audience and said:

"I was before old Calhoun Webster, beside whom, in the broiling southern sun, I toiled day after day. Now, ladies and gentlemen, I appeal to Uncle Calhoun. Tell us, uncle, was I, or was I not, a good man in the cotton field?"

"'You was a good man, senatuh,' the aged negro replied; 'you was a good man, for a fack; but you suttin' didn't work much.'"

All in Good Time.

Seven-year-old William had become the proud owner of a pig, and insisted upon having all the care of it himself. After a few weeks, as the pig did not seem to thrive, his father said to him:

"William, I'm afraid you are not feeding your pig enough. It does not seem to be fattening at all."

"I don't want him to fatten, yet," William replied, knowingly. "I'm waiting until he gets to be as long as I want him, then I'll begin to widen him out."—HT-B.

At the County Fair.

Visitor.—And so that is what they call the wild horse of Patagonia. What do you feed it?

Zoo Attendant.—Wild oats.

Moore's Air-Tight Heater

Does the Work of a Furnace!

It's by far the greatest heater on earth! Built on an entirely different principle than others. Heats by circulation instead of radiation. One Moore's Air Tight Heater will heat your entire house—upstairs and down—and keep every floor as warm as though you had a furnace. It heats the air in the farthest room to the same temperature as the air in the same room as the stove.

Saves Over Half Your Coal Bill!

Moore's Air Tight Heater burns hard coal or the cheapest kind of slack, and can be run at less than half the cost of other heaters. The Egg Shaped Duct and Hot Air Flue Firepot consumes all the carbon in the coal, thus overcoming the smoke and soot nuisance as well as making the fuel last longer. There are no clinkers and no clinders.

The Duct Flue takes all the dust and small ashes up the chimney, thus preventing them from collecting on the floor and furniture. The Ashpan keeps all ashes from falling on the floor when removing pan.

All parts are surface ground and fit together air tight. Nothing but asbestos wicking is used in mounting. It expands and contracts with the heat, so that the stove is perfectly air tight and under complete control at all times.

The Handsomest and Handiest Heater Ever Made!

All nickel-plated parts are of the very highest finish, through a process known only to the House of Moore. None of the polished parts comes in direct contact with the fire. The polish can't burn off. One polishing keeps the stove like new for a whole year.

The Air Tight Draft Control enables you to hold a fire from 24 to 48 hours. Fire never goes out over night, and is always under perfect control.

Stop in and let us show you the secret of our Open Rooster Heating and many other features we haven't room here to explain. Let us prove to you that these heaters will replace two or even three others and do better work than all combined.

WASH THAT ITCH AWAY.

It is said that there are certain springs in Europe that give relief and cure to Eczema and other skin diseases. If you know that by washing in these waters you could be relieved from that awful itch, wouldn't you make every effort to take a trip to Europe at once? Would you not be willing to spend your last cent to find the cure?

But you need not leave home for these distant springs. Relief is right here in your own home town!

A simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients, as compounded only in D. D. D. Preparations, will bring instant relief to that terrible burning itch, and leave the skin smooth and healthy as that of a child.

If you have not already tried it, get at least a 25 cent bottle today. We assure you of instant relief.

SYNOPSIS.
There was nothing out of the ordinary anywhere, and I said so. I
Mrs. Klopston. Needless to say, I did not tell her that I had left the trap-
door open to see if it would improve
the temperature of the house. I went to bed at midnight, merely because there was nothing else to do. I turned on the light lamp at the head of my
bed, and picked up a volume of Shaw
at random (it was "Arms and the Man," and I remember thinking grimly
that I was a good bit of a chocolate
cream soldier myself), and prepared to go to sleep. Shaw always puts me
to sleep. I have no apologies to make for what occurred that night, and not even an explanation that I am sure of.
I did a foolish thing under impulse,
and I have not been sorry.

CHAPTER XIV.
The Trap Door.
By Sunday evening, a week after the week, my old-fashioned reaction had gradually come to frenzy. The very sight of Johnson across the street or lurking always within sight of the house, kept me constantly excited. It was on that day that things began to come to a focus, a burning glass of events concentrated in that evening in no cheerful frame of mind. There had been a polo game the day before and I had lent a pony, which is always a thing to do. And when the winded her shoulder, besides helping to lose the game. There was no one in town; the temperature was 90 and climbing, and my left hand persistently cramped under its bandage.

Mrs. Klopston herself saw me served,
my bread buttered and cut in tidbits,
my meat ready for my fork. She hovered around me maternally, obviously trying to cheer me.
"The paper says still warmer," she said. "The thermometer is 92 now."
"And this coffee is 250," I said, putting down my cup. "Where is Euphe-mia?" I asked, and then her around, or heard a dish smash on the floor.
"Euphemia is in bed," Mrs. Klopston said gravely. "Is your meat cut small enough, Mr. Lawrence? Mrs. Klopston can throw more mystery in an ordinary sentence than any one I know. She can say, 'Are your sheets damp, sir?' And I can tell from her tone that the house across the street has been robbed, or that my left hand neighbor has appendicitis. So now I looked up and asked the question she was waiting for.

"What's the matter with Euphe-mia?" I inquired-lazily.
"Frightened into her bed," Mrs. Klopston said in a stage whisper.
"She's had three hot water bottles and she hasn't done a thing all day
but moan."
"She oughtn't to take hot water bottles," I said in my severest tone.
"One would make me moan. You need not wait, I'll ring if I need anything."
Mrs. Klopston sailed to the door, where she stopped and wheeled about nervously. "I only hope you won't laugh on the wrong side of your face some morning, Mr. Lawrence," she declared, with Christian fortitude. "But I want you, I am going to have the police watch that house next door."
I was half inclined to tell her that both it and we were under police surveillance at that moment. But I like Mrs. Klopston. In spite of the fact that I make her life a torment for her, so I refrained.

"Last night, when the paper said it was going to storm, I sent Euphemia to the roof to bring the rugs in. Ella had slipped and the house was her-evening in. Euphemia went up to the roof—it was 11 o'clock—and soon I heard her running downstairs crying.
When she got to my room she said there was a black figure sitting on the parapet of the house next door—the empty house—and that when she appeared it rose and waved long black arms at her and spit like a cat."

I had finished my dinner and was leaning back in my chair, when I saw any one there, which I doubt, they probably sneezed," I suggested. "But if you feel uneasy, I'll take a look around the roof for you and return.
As far as Euphemia goes, I wouldn't be uneasy about her—doesn't she always have an attack of some kind when Ella rings in an extra evening on her?"

So I made a superficial examination of the window looks that night, visiting parts of the house that I had not seen since I bought it. Then I went to the roof. Evidently it had not been intended for any purpose save to heat the house, for, unlike the houses around, there was no staircase.
A ladder and a trap-door led to it, and it required some nice balancing on my part to get up with my useless arm. I made it, however, and found this unexpected part of my domain rather attractive. It was cooler than downstairs, and I sat on the brick parapet and smoked my final cigarette.
The roof of the empty house adjoined mine along the back wing, but investigation showed that the trap-door between the two buildings was across the middle of the way.

There was nothing out of the ordinary anywhere, and I said so. I
Mrs. Klopston. Needless to say, I did
not tell her that I had left the trap-
door open to see if it would improve
the temperature of the house. I went to bed at midnight, merely because
there was nothing else to do. I turned
on the light lamp at the head of my
bed, and picked up a volume of Shaw
at random (it was "Arms and the Man," and I remember thinking grimly
that I was a good bit of a chocolate
cream soldier myself), and prepared
to go to sleep. Shaw always puts me
to sleep. I have no apologies to make
for what occurred that night, and not
even an explanation that I am sure of.
I did a foolish thing under impulse,
and I have not been sorry.

the other trap, the one belonging to the suspected house. It was closed, but I imagined I could hear Johnson's footsteps ascending heavily.
Then even that ceased. A steady clock struck three as I stood waiting.
I examined my revolver then, for the first time, and found it was empty!
I had been there about an hour
now. I had had the usual tolerant attitude of the man who is summoned
from his bed to search for burglars, combined with the artificial courage of firearms. With the discovery of my empty gun, I felt like a man on the top of a volcano in lively eruption.
Suddenly I found myself staring incredulously at the trap-door at my feet. I had examined it early in the evening and found it bolted. Did I imagine it, or had it raised about an inch? Wasn't it moving slowly as I looked? No, I am not a hero; I was startled almost into a panic. I had one arm, and whoever was raising that trap-door had two. My knees had a queer inclination to bend the wrong way.

Johnson's footsteps were distinct enough, but he was evidently far below. The trap, raised perhaps two inches now, remained stationary.
There was no sound from beneath it.
Once I thought I heard two or three gasping respirations. I am not sure they were mine. I wanted desperately to stand on one leg at a time and hold the other up out of focus of a possible revolver.

I did not see the hand appear.
There was nothing there, and then it was there, clutching the frame of the trap. I put the only thing I could think of, but my foot on it!
There was not a sound from beneath. The next moment I was kneeling and had clutched the wrist just above the hand. After a second's struggle, the arm was still. With something real to face, I was myself again.

"Don't move, or I'll stand on the trap and break your arm," I panted.
What else could I threaten? I couldn't.
I wheeled on him impatiently.
"You don't understand the situation at all, Richey," I exclaimed. "What would you say if I tell you it was the hand of a lady? It was covered with rings."

"A lady?" he repeated. "Why, I say it was a damned compromising situation, and that the less you say of it the better. Look here, Lawrence, I think you dreamed it. You've been in the house too long. I take it all back; you do need exercise."
"She escaped through this door, I suppose," I said as patently as I could. Evidently down the back staircase. We might as well go down that way."

"According to the best precedents in these affairs, we should first give about here," he said as we started down. But he was more impressed than he cared to own. He examined the dusty floor carefully and once, when a bit of loose plaster fell just behind him, he started like a nervous woman.

"I don't understand it why you let her go," he said, stoic, speechless, puzzled. "You're not usually quixotic."
"When we get out into the country
Richey," I replied gravely, "I am going to tell you another story, and if you don't tell me I'm a fool and a caveman, on the strength of it, you are no friend of mine."

We stumbled through the twilight of staircase into the blackness of the uttered darkness. The house had the moody smell of closed buildings, even on that warm September morning it was damp and chilly. As we stepped into the sunning McIntyre gave a shiver.
"Now that we are out," he said, "I don't mind telling you that I have been there before. Do you remember the night you left, and the face at the window?"

"When you speak of it—yes."
"Well, I was curious about that thing," he went on, as we started up the street, "and I went back. The street door was unlocked, and I examined the window. I was Mrs. Klopston's ghost that carried a light and climb."

"Did you find anything?"
"Only a clean place rubbed on the window opposite your dressing room.
Splendid view of an untidy interior.
If that house is ever occupied, you'd better put stained glass in that window of yours."
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Couldn't Do It.
"I can't stay long," said the chairman of the committee from the colored church. "I just came to see if you wouldn't join de mission band."
"Yv de laur sakes, honey," replied
the old mammy, "dona come to me!
I can't even play a mouf-organ."

CHEERFUL WORDS FOR SUFFERING WOMEN.

No woman can be healthy with sick kidneys. They are often the true cause of bearing-down pains, head-aches, nervousness, etc. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained.

Don't's Kidney Pills make strong, healthy kidneys. Mrs. John A. Link, 123 East Perry St., Bucyrus, O., says: "I was so terribly afflicted with kidney complaint, I could not stir out of bed. I was attended by several doctors but they all failed to help me. Don't's Kidney Pills gave me relief after I had given up all hope and soon cured me. I have had no kidney trouble in three years."

On the Senators. The wit of Bishop Bath Ward amuses Nashville frequently. Bishop Ward, in company with two senators, came forth from a Nashville reception the other day and entered a waiting motor car. "Ah, bishop," said one of his companions, "you are not like your master. He was content to ride on an ass." Ward answered, "but there's no such animal to be got nowadays. They make them all senators."

Trying to Console. "My son," remarked the stern parent, "when I was your age I had very little time for frivolous diversions." "Well," replied the young man, "you didn't miss much. Believe me, this gay life isn't what it looks to be."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by using Searle's Cream. The circulation of the blood in the ear must be improved, and the inflamed condition of the membrane must be removed, and the inflamed condition of the membrane must be removed, and the inflamed condition of the membrane must be removed.

Made Him Ridiculous. Joseph Letter, in an interview on his yacht Chanticleer, said, with a smile: "Please quote me accurately. In an interview, you know, the slightest inaccuracy can make a man ridiculous. It is like the Frenchman, who thought he had a very fair knowledge of English, nevertheless, said to a father: 'Ah! You son, he resemble you. A chip of the old blockhead, hem?'" —Exchange.

AN EFFECTIVE HOME MADE KIDNEY AND BACKACHE CURE

Easily Prepared Medicine Which is Said to Regulate the Kidneys and End Backache.

To make up enough of the "Dandelion Mixture" which is claimed to be a prompt cure for Backache and Kidney and Bladder trouble, get from any good Prescription Pharmacist one-half ounce fluid extract Dandelion; one ounce Kargon Compound and three ounces Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

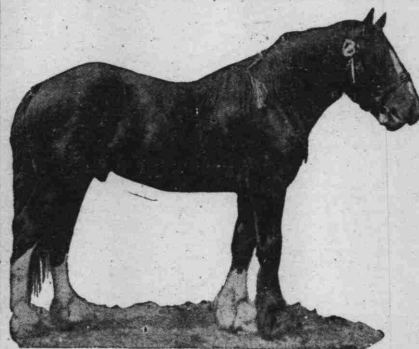

Those who have tried it say it acts gently but thoroughly on the kidneys and entire urinary system, relieving the most severe Backache at once. A well-known medical authority recommends the prescription to be taken the moment you suspect any Kidney, Bladder or Urinary disorder or feel a constant dull Backache, or if the urine is thick, cloudy, offensive or full of sediment, irregular of passage or after a scalding sensation; or for too frequent urination during the night.

This is a real harmless vegetable mixture which could not cause injury to anyone and the relief which is said to immediately follow its use is a revelation to men and women who suffer from Backache, Kidney trouble or any form of Urinary disorder.

BREEDING PEDIGREE STOCK IS HIGHLY PROFITABLE

Man Must be Lover of Animals and Possess More Than Ordinary Amount of Patience if He is to Become a Prosperous Breeder.

Perhaps of all branches of farming breeding pedigree livestock is the most interesting, and, in addition, it has the further recommendation that when properly conducted it is profitable. I know that many persons have dropped money, and some large amounts, over pedigree stock, but I could name several tenant farmers who have weathered hard times and are today in a prosperous condition, thanks mainly to this industry. A man must be a lover of animals and possess more than ordinary amount of patience if he is to become a prominent breeder, and a writer in Country Life. Furthermore, unless he is able to place a large amount of capital in the business he must be prepared to look his money up for some years. Those who can afford to buy the best-bred and most typical animals of any breed as foundation stock, and who are content to pay good salaries and wages to competent men to take charge of them, ought soon to get a good return for their investment. Persons with limited means must be satisfied to start with a few animals less perfect in type and conformation or with aged individuals which can be picked up for comparatively little money, and then gradually breed up a stud herd or flock. The latter plan, unless one is a good judge of stock and a practical farmer, is the one I should advise. Clever and experienced breeders are apt to make mistakes in buying, mating and rearing their stock and a novice is sure to purchase his experience very dearly if he starts breeding on too large a scale. The situation and soil of one's farm should govern, to a great extent, the variety of stock which it is decided to keep. Lincoln, sheep, for instance, would not pay to rear on the mountains where the Scotch black-faced mountain or the Herdwick breeds exist. Or, again, the hardy Southdown thrives on the short, scanty herbage that grows on its native hills, where larger sheep would starve. Many breeds of livestock appear to be specially adapted to the locality in which they are born, and one always runs a risk when introducing a fresh variety of animals into any country.

Not only does it take some time for a breed new to the district to become acclimated, but it is always difficult to dispose of one's surplus stock in a year and plum trees.

SEVERAL KINDS OF LEGHORN

Of the several breeds of Leghorn, the white is the most popular and the brown next, says the Farm Poultry. The buff Leghorns of the best strains have about all the good qualities of the white variety and are fast gaining popularity, the color being more attractive to some tastes. At the Black and Dominique Leghorns also have their advocates. Each of the Leghorns, although naturally having single combs, are bred also with rose combs. The rose comb is obtained by introduction of Hamburg blood, and the result is in general a tendency to smaller bodies and smaller eggs in the rose comb variety. The single combs vary greatly in size and weight according to strain. Some of the larger strains are almost equal in size to the average of some of the medium weight breeds, and it is claimed that the size is not obtained at the expense of laying powers. The Leghorns, like most of the breeds, need to be bred with care to prevent the tendency to smaller sizes. Small bodies, pinched necks, and lack of constitution. Eight or ten years ago Leghorn cockerels were in considerable demand for crossing. The Leghorn and Brahma cross, Leghorn and Wyandotte, or Leghorn and Plymouth Rock, were bred for crossing to produce a breed of crossbred chickens for broilers and roasters, and of late years the tendency of the poultry plants seems to be toward the use of one or another of the pure breeds. Cross breeding is more trouble and results less than from the pure breeds.

MARKS HERO'S TOMB

Monument Now at Gen. Shields' Long-Neglected Grave.

He Fought With Distinction in Two Wars, Served Three States as Senator, and a Fourth as Governor.

Carrollton, Mo.—To have served as senator from three states and as governor of a fourth is distinction that has come to only one man in the history of the United States. And yet for nearly 30 years that man, Gen. James H. Shields, whose military record was even more illustrious than his record as a statesman, lay in an almost forgotten and unmarked grave. He was the first territorial governor of Oregon, he served a full term as senator from Illinois, he was one of the first two senators from Minnesota and he served out an unexpired term as senator from Missouri. He went into the Mexican war a brigadier general and served with such distinction that his sword found ready acceptance and he was commissioned a brigadier general at the outbreak of the Civil war.

General Shields served four states and his adopted country (he was Irish born) both faithfully and well, and doubtless had public attention been called earlier to the neglect of his grave in St. Mary's cemetery here, Congress would have been quicker to show, by a monument, its appreciation of his services. However, when Representative Rucker, of Missouri, introduced a bill at the last session of congress to appropriate $2,000 for that purpose, it was quickly passed and the monument was recently unveiled. General Shields was one of the many young Irishmen who came to America in the generation that preceded the Civil war and gave their adopted country cause to feel proud of them. He was born in County Tyrone, December 12, 1810. About the age of 16 young Shields emigrated to the United States and finished his education. He studied law and began practice at Kaskaskia, Ill., in 1832. He rapidly achieved professional dis-tington and having entered politics was elected to the legislature in 1838. In 1839 he was elected state auditor and in 1843 was appointed judge of the Supreme court of Illinois. He held the latter office two years and resigned to accept the appointment of commissioner of the general land office in Washington. Served in Two Wars. At the outbreak of the Mexican war Shields was given a brigadier's commission and commanded, first a brigade of Illinois troops, later commanding a brigade composed of marines and New York and South Carolina volunteers. He served under Gen. Zachary Taylor, Gen. Winfield Scott and General Wool and was wounded at Cerro Gordo and in the storming of Chapultepec. For gallantry in the latter action he was brevetted a major general. General Shields was mustered out of service in 1848 and shortly afterwards was appointed the first territorial governor of Oregon. While serving in that office he was elected senator from Illinois and served out his full term. After quitting the senate he moved to Minnesota, where he speedily became prominent in politics and, on the admission of that state, he was elected senator for the short term, serving two years, from 1857 to 1859. Quitting the senate again he went to California and engaged in mining, and was thus engaged when the Civil war broke out. Promptly he offered his sword and was commissioned a brigadier general. He commanded a division under Gen. Nathaniel P. Banks in the Shenandoah Valley and directed the initial movement at the battle of Winchester, where he was severely wounded. At his own request he was relieved of his command in the army and went to California, where he remained until the close of the war. He then chose Missouri as his home, settling in Carroll county, living on a farm a few miles east of Carrollton in peaceful retirement until 1874, when he was chosen to represent the county in the legislature. In January, 1875, he was chosen by the Missouri legislature to fill the Congressional term of Senator V. B. Vogt, which expired March 4, 1878. He died at Ottumwa in 1878.

BABY'S GIFT FROM HIS PAPA

Inheritance for Which Mother Did Not Seem to Be in Any Great Degree Thankful.

Richard Harding Davis, at a football game in Philadelphia, praised the voices of the young undergraduates shouting their weird college yells.

"It makes me think of a Louist street wife," said Mr. Davis, smiling. "She turned to her husband one night at dinner and remarked:

"My dear, the first time I saw you was at Franklin Field. Your head was thrown back, your mouth wide open and your face was very red—you were yelling your college yell."

"Yes, I remember," said the young man.

"And I noticed," she continued, "what a remarkable voice you had."

"Yes, you spoke of it at the time," said he. "But what makes you think of it now?"

"Oh, nothing," said the wife, "only I wish the baby hadn't inherited it. That's all."

"I don't know, I was sitting on the back seat and couldn't see," was the ready answer.—From Norman E. Mack's National Monthly.

OWES HER LIFE TO

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill.—"I was troubled with falling and inflammation, and the doctor said I could not get well unless I had an operation. I knew I could not stand the strain of one, so I wrote to you sometime ago about my health and you told me what to do. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier I am today a well woman."—Mrs. WILLIAM ARNOLD, 808 W. 21st St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaint, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Offer a Cure for Catarrh

The Medicine Costs Nothing if it Fails.

When a medicine effects a successful treatment in a very large majority of cases, and when we offer that medicine on our own personal guarantee that it will cost the user nothing if it does not completely relieve catarrh, it is only reasonable that people should believe in, or at least put our claim to a practical test, when we take all the risks. These are facts which we want the people to substantiate. We want them to try Rexall Muc-Tone, a medicine prepared from a prescription of a physician with whom catarrh was a specialty, and who has a record of thirty years of enviable success to his record.

We receive more good reports about Rexall Muc-Tone than we do of all other catarrh remedies sold in our store and if more people only knew what a thoroughly dependable remedy Rexall Muc-Tone is, it would be the only catarrh remedy we would have any demand for.

Rexall Muc-Tone is quickly absorbed and by its therapeutic effect tends to disintegrate and cleanse the entire mucous membrane tract, to destroy and remove the parasites which injure the mucous tissues, to soothe the irritation and heal the soreness, stop the mucous discharge, build up strong and healthy tissue and relieve the blood and system of diseased matter. Its influence is toward stimulating the mucous cells, aiding digestion and improving nutrition until the whole body vibrates with healthy activity. In a comparatively short time it brings about a noticeable gain in weight, strength, good color and feeling of buoyancy.

We urge you to try Rexall Muc-Tone, beginning a treatment to day. At any time you are not satisfied, supply came and tell us, and we will quickly return your money without question or quibble. We have Rexall Muc-Tone in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedy in Springfield only at our store—The Rexall Store. The Haydon & Willett Drug Co.

THE NEWEST SLENDER CRAZE

Among Our Women is Said to Have Demoralized the Nation's Candy Market.

"The feminine craze for being slender has knocked the bottom out of our business," said the man in charge of the downtown branch of a candy concern. "Some men who were good for at least $10 worth of candy each week never come inside the door now, and when I see them trudging past the store with a package of fruit I make up my mind their wives and daughters or sweethearts have taken a stand against candy. One man with a wife and four daughters, who used to be a splendid customer, told me the other day that he'd as soon come home with a viper as with a five-pound box of candy, although a year ago he used to buy two five-pound boxes each week. We notice the same difference in small sales to women employed in offices. There's not half the number of calls for half-pound boxes, though our sales of sweet chocolates are always big, as lots of business women nibble it instead of taking a regular luncheon. The continual running in of office boys to execute commissions for the stenographers and telephone operators is getting to be a thing of the past, and lemon drops are about the only sweets these business girls will eat. Every mother's daughter seems to be dead set against gaining an ounce of flesh, and until it's fashionable to be plump again I suppose we'll notice the difference in the sales."—New York Sun.

Thanksgiving Service.

At the usual hour for service on Thanksgiving morning the good people in the community of Beech Grove met for an all-day meeting at that place, after a short praise and song service Rev. H. P. Hatcher, Pastor, read the 136 Psalm, when he gave us a short appropriate talk in which he said: As on the night of the nativity an angel broke the good news to the frightened shepherds, as they watched their flocks, a multitude of the heavenly hosts broke the stillness of the Judean hill by saying: "Glory to God in the highest; peace on earth, good will to men" so should we praise and thank God for the gift of His son, the Savior, and that he made the way possible for the salvation of men. Also we should thank Him for the Holy Spirit and that his mission in the world was to convince men of sin, of righteousness, and of judgment, and He for eighteen hundred years had been performing that office work in the hearts of the children of men and He also came as a comforter binding up the broken hearted ones by pouring in the oil of consolation and love and as a guide leading his faithful ones over rugged paths, along thorny ways and by still sweet waters as well.

The preacher said we should be thankful for the Bible that is our guide board, our waybill to point us the way as we travel along unknown and untried paths, and that we should be thankful for the opportunity was given to these present to express their thankfulness to their kind Benefactor for blessings received after a number of testimonies were given interspersed with prayers. A short benediction was given when the Thanksgiving dinner was served on the ground, after which the order of service was resumed.

Brother Charlie Pope opened the meeting by reading an appropriate lesson from the best of books. As the hymns were sung an earnestness of speech an intensity of prayer seemed to stir the people in an unusual way, with expressions of gratitude and thanks giving mingled with prayer came from every part of the congregation.

Among those who testified to his good news on that day, was our good friend, Brother J. W. Pope, who was born April 1830, born of the spirit in the old log house, the original Beech Grove church where our fathers worshipped 70 years ago. He told us of God's goodness and how he had supported him along this stretch of disappointing years thus proving the promises of scripture that the poet sang, "Even down to old age all my people shall prove."

"My Sovereign Eternal Unchangeable Love."

Miss Addie Whitehouse recited a Temperance story and Miss Katie Carpenter the, "church and the world."

Among the visitors all of whom we appreciate, might be seen, Mr. J. C. Martin, who was one of my neighbors and teachers of my youthful days, and daughter, Mattie of Alton, Bro. Charles Hudson, of Stewart, Charlie Pope, of Bethlehem, and our old friend M. H. Coyle who was born and reared back among the Deep Creek hills which he will love and sometimes visits.

This meeting was a love feast after the old Methodist fashion. While a song was being sung friendship was strengthened by giving each other the parting hand, to be renewed again on a brighter shore. Each went his way feeling they had, had a great day.

Free Child's Remedy

What mother is not looking for something that will help her children in the little ills of life, something for the stomach trouble and the bowel trouble? Long ago the probably has become convinced that a child cannot readily swallow a pill or a tablet, and that to "break them in half and crush them" is an annoyance that usually they work too drastically, and are unpalatable and too powerful for the little one's stomach.

Any mother who will take the trouble of sending her name and address can obtain a free sample bottle of a remedy that thousands of other mothers are using and now paying for. This remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the other of a free trial bottle is open to any mother who has not yet used it. Having used it and convinced yourself that it is what you want, you can obtain it in the future of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, but as so many others are doing, the free sample being simply to convince you of its merits. It is the best way to begin on it. Mrs. J. D. Davis of 107 W. Hancock street, Chicago, and Mrs. Mary Belford, 1710 Ohio street, Louisville, Ky., both stated with a sample and now they write that they have never been without a bottle in the house since.

It is undoubtedly a great family remedy, as it is adapted to all ages, being mild and pleasant to take and yet thoroughly effective. It is the best remedy for children and women and all folk who need some purgative, mild and natural. It has the advantage of being a thorough laxative, and yet contains no toxic properties. Use it for the most stubborn constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach and such complaints, with a assurance that it will cure.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire. Write him at his home, 1615 North Dearborn street, Chicago, Ill., and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card to Dr. J. C. Caldwell, 1710 Ohio street, Louisville, Ky., and he will send you a sample bottle of his medicine.
